Round of Golf on Pearl Valley

Pearl Valley is the latest addition to the Jack Nicklaus's repertoire of signature-designed courses worldwide. The Pearl Valley Golf Estate is surrounded by the Simonsberg and Drakenstein Mountains and bordered by vineyards with The Berg River water hazard running through it! Nicklaus has stayed true to his design principles by working closely with nature and has provided a golf course that fits in with the environment. This fairly flat and largely uninterrupted terrain enabled Nicklaus the freedom to develop hole strategies making this a golf course the golfer has to think his/her way around. The course is spectacularly set in beautiful surroundings and it is only a matter of time before Pearl Valley hosts an international golfing event.

Royal Cape Golf Course (oldest golf course in South Africa)

Embrace the chance to experience traditional golf with a British colonial influence. The Royal Cape is the oldest golf course in South Africa and is over 120 years old! Since then, many improvements have been made from time to time without changing the essential nature of the course and the Club has remained on the roster of major championship venues.

The South African Open has been hosted no less than ten times, the first in 1910 and the most recent in 1996 when Ernie Els birdied the last three holes to win by one shot. Gary Player won in 1965 when he became the first player to break 70 in all four rounds. An African caddy & a brief stop to the half-way house for a bite to eat, round off the Royal Cape Golf experience.
